

Castello Romitorio

Artist Sandro Chia bought Castello Romitorio in 1984, restored and upgraded the facilities, and the investment of time and passion has paid off in his wines which are consistently awarded 90+ ratings.

The vineyards capture the multi-faceted beauty of two of the main micro-climates in the windswept hills of Montalcino; Castello Romitorio in the north-west and Poggio di Sopra in the south-east. These two estates consist of approximately 455 acres of thick oak forests, with 37 of them dedicated to the vine, and 14 to the olive. The soil is mainly composed of marl and limestone and the climate ranges from the cooler, continental type in the north to that of the milder, Tyrrhenian coastal one of the Mediterranean.

Sandro Chia creates the art used in the labels for his wines, making the wines from Romitorio an artistic expression from the vineyard to the table.

2013 Il Toro IGT Rosso Maremma

This wine is the result of blending Cabernet Sauvignon, Syrah and Petit Verdot in equal parts. Its ruby, red colour is vivid and intense. Pleasant to the nose and well-balanced, it radiates a perfume of small red fruits and crushed rose petals. Upon the palate, red-ripe fruits and sweet spices, balsamic hints and a sound structure and complexity, it is also a wine of long and soft persistence.
