DISTILLERY

Introducing Steinhart Gin

Available for the first time in limited quantities through the LCBO e-commerce program, Steinhart Gin has been a darling and well-kept secret among gin drinkers, but the secret is now out!

Hailing from the coast of Nova Scotia, along the Northumberland shores overlooking Arisiag Wharf, craft distilling is a rich Steinhart family tradition over 300 years in the making.

Thomas Steinhart remembers coming of age in rural Germany, where he spent many happy hours helping his grandfather stoke the woodfired still. Though the fire has long since extinguished and the family farm has been sold, the joy of using natural ingredients to craft superb spirits is still ablaze in Thomas' memory.

Steinhart won the "Gin Distiller of the Year" award at the Berlin International Spirits Competition in 2017, Steinhart spirits have also won gold and silver at the New York International Spirits Competition, among many other recognitions.

This gin, based on a family recipe, is a wow. Highly flavoured and aromatic it's steeped with juniper and other botanicals such as clove, licorice, allspice, hops, cardamom, orris root, star anise and more. Tiny sips of his gin and vodkas in the tasting room so impressed me that I ordered a six-pack for delivery to my home in Toronto.
